I understand that All-In-One Wireless is not responsible or liable for any of the following:

- 1) Obstructions that might be erected or grow between the antenna at your location and the tower which causes degradation or loss of service.
- 2) Debris or ice on the antenna located at your location.
- 3) Aiming or re-aiming the antenna located at your location.
- 4) Weather related damage, such as water, snow, wind, lightning, etc.
- 5) Wiring not properly connected.

I also understand that I have 7 days after a technician has left my house to report into All-In-One Wireless that the problem was not resolved to prevent a return trip from costing me any additional fees.

Note: If you do not sign up for a Maintenance Program at the time of installation and decide to add it after the initial 30-days Money Back Guarantee period there is a 30-day activation period before the new Maintenance Program goes into effect.
